The Authority of Benalyon

BENALYON

FROM THRONE TO STONE, FROM ZION TO SALEM

The Governing Authority Placement

The governing Benalyon relationship is:

Elyon - Source

Jesus Christ - Fulfillment and Living Head

Benalyon - Preserved Framework

Heaven on Earth - Mission

This order is relational and governing. It is not a claim that Benalyon is the Source, the Fulfillment, Heaven, or the Kingdom of God.

Permanent Interpretive Rule

dependence, not transfer

The arrow identifies source, revelation, orientation, and dependence. It does not represent equality, succession to divine authority, or automatic transmission of divine authority from one position to the next.

Elyon is the Source-the Most High. Jesus Christ holds the primary and governing Christological position within Benalyon. Benalyon remains subordinate to Christ as a human-developed system seeking to understand, organize, express, and live according to what it recognizes as divine order under Christ.

Benalyon does not claim that its teachings become divine merely because they are incorporated into Benalyon. It does not claim infallibility or independent scriptural authority. It does not place its publications, symbols, architecture, interpretations, founder, or institutional records on the same level as Elyon or Jesus Christ.

Elyon - Source

Elyon occupies the Source position within the Benalyon relationship structure. Elyon is not treated as a framework, symbol, created structure, or merely an expression of Benalyon.

The source position establishes the highest orientation of the framework. The document preserves this placement without attempting to resolve questions outside its defined scope, including unresolved relationships among Elyon, YHWH, and Yahweh.

Jesus Christ - Fulfillment and Living Head

Jesus Christ is the Fulfillment and Living Head within the Benalyon relationship structure. All restoration patterns and Benalyon formation remain connected to fulfillment through Jesus Christ.

Jesus Christ is not interchangeable with a symbol, organizational role, developmental designation, institution, or created structure. Benalyon structures remain subordinate to the Christological commitment they claim to serve.

Benalyon - Preserved Framework

Benalyon is the preserved framework through which its adopted architecture, formation, interpretation, symbols, and mission are organized. Benalyon is not elevated into the Source or the Fulfillment.

Foundational authorship establishes provenance. It does not, by itself, create divine authority. The founder may originate, develop, steward, document, interpret, or formally adopt material within Benalyon according to its governance structure, but those institutional functions do not make the founder a divine authority. Benalyon is not its founder, and its founder is not inserted into the authority sequence. Constitutional, founding, stewardship, and operational authorities remain distinct from divine authority and are valid only within their defined scope.

Heaven on Earth - Mission

Heaven on Earth describes Benalyon's mission of earthly life increasingly ordered in correspondence with heavenly order under Christ. It does not identify Benalyon with Heaven or the Kingdom of God, and it does not establish institutional perfection or infallibility.

Benalyon's human institution remains capable of error, correction, development, investigation, and accountability.

Source Distinction Standard

The authority structure must preserve the difference among:

- Source
- Fulfillment
- Framework
- Expression

• Symbol

Created structures, systems, images, seals, symbols, and interpretations must not be confused with the Source or the Fulfillment. A framework may express a relationship without becoming the reality to which it points.

Scripture Boundary

Benalyon does not add to, subtract from, replace, or supersede Scripture. Scripture retains its established foundational and authoritative boundary role. No Benalyon document, interpretation, symbol, institution, or convergence of perspectives possesses independent scriptural authority.

This document is a foundational relationship and authority-boundary record. It is not Scripture, a new revelation, a new canon, or a substitute for the biblical witness. A Benalyon interpretation of Scripture remains an interpretation unless some other status has been independently established.

Authority Cannot Be Created by Structure

The following distinctions remain binding:

• symbolic placement does not create divine authority;

• geometric centrality does not establish supremacy of authority;

• proximity does not establish identity;

• internal coherence does not establish revelation;

• institutional office does not transfer divine authority;

• stewardship authority is entrusted and scope-bound;

• operational authority does not become constitutional or divine authority merely through use;

• comparative material does not transfer outside authority into Benalyon.

No Benalyon person, office, institution, book, symbol, seal, system, or publication may silently assume the authority belonging to Elyon or Jesus Christ.

Authority Review Boundary

The authority-placement material has been reviewed in a bounded manner. The controlling placement is:

Elyon - Source → Jesus Christ - Fulfillment and Living Head → Benalyon - Preserved Framework

That bounded placement does not, by itself, certify every restoration model, seal, symbolic claim, expanded Christology, comparative interpretation, publication status, or future development. Such matters retain their own records, classifications, and review requirements.

The historical Foundational Record remains preserved as provenance. This standalone public surface does not silently rewrite or backdate that record; it provides the controlling public-document expression of the authority placement and its boundaries.

Public-Document and Publication Boundary

This document is freely available through the Benalyon Public Document Registry. Its free availability does not make the Benalyon books freely available. The Benalyon publication family remains separate, commercially governed, and subject to its own publication records and access terms.

The document's authority is documentary and architectural. It records and protects the authority placement; it does not create a new authority by being published or listed in the Registry.

Preservation and Change Control

The controlling relationship, source distinctions, Scripture boundary, and bounded review scope must remain recoverable in every future version. Any proposed change that alters the authority order, elevates a framework or symbol, changes the role of Jesus Christ, or expands the document's classification requires explicit controlled review rather than silent revision.

The Authority of Benalyon

Document Record

• Canonical title: The Authority of Benalyon

• Document class: Foundational Authority Placement and Boundary Record

• Architectural home: 01 - The Source

• Controlling source: The Authority of Benalyon - Open source

• Source public-release status: Freely available - Benalyon Public Document Registry

• Source status: ADOPTED authority-placement record; standalone public-document surface established

• Source version: v1.0 - first reconciled standalone public surface

• Provenance: Reconciled from the authority-placement and source-distinction material in [Source 1], with bounded review support from [Source 2]

• Classification: Foundational relationship and authority-boundary record; not Scripture, not a new canon, and not independent revelation

• Publication relationship: This is a free public document, not a Benalyon book. Related treatment within the publication family does not create independent doctrinal or governing authority.

• Change-control rule: Future changes must preserve provenance, status, version, classification, source distinctions, and authority boundaries and must pass the applicable change-control and CIR review.

Editorial Revision Record

Revision: E2 - October 10, 2026.

Preserved authority placement and divine-name scope; identified the actual controlling source.

The current controlling page was retrieved for this review. Its earlier source versions and historical findings were not overwritten. PDF formatting and source-consistency checks do not establish independent theological proof, legal rights, final geometry construction, or formal manuscript freeze.
